CAPTAIN KETCH SETS OFF ON EPIC GB ROW

WITH one seemingly impossible adventurer title already under his belt, Basingstoke's James Ketchell has embarked on a new mission to push the boat out even further.

By Christian Wilson

As James himself puts it "everyone is good at one thing" and it would seem that his talent is taking on endurance challenges that the majority of people would not even dream of.

In 2014, he became the first and only person to complete the "ultimate triathlon" of rowing across the Atlantic Ocean, climbing to the top of Mount Everest and cycling 18,000 miles around the world.

And, on Saturday, the man, known to many as Captain Ketch, set off on another expedition a little bit closer to home but no less crazy – to row 2,000 miles unsupported around the entire coast of Great Britain.

The feat, which has never been completed by any solo rower, will see James have to battle erratic winds and constantly changing tides in what he admits will be his toughest challenge to date.

He said: "I'm very confident, but this is not like being in the Atlantic where you can go to sleep, relax and drift around, you can't do that with this.

"This is one of the last great ocean rows to tick off.

"I've always wanted to do stuff like this – I must have watched too much Tintin when I was younger!

"It's not a job to me, this is my life, but I never thought I'd become a professional adventurer when I first started out."

James, who set off from St Katharine Docks, London, will not be able to touch land at any point during the circumnavigation, meaning he will have to drop anchor whenever he needs to rest on the 60-day challenge.

The 34-year-old has not had the best of luck over the past 12 months after seeing expeditions to cross both the Indian and Atlantic oceans cancelled due to his rowing partners pulling out through injury.

James' attempt to row from Australia to Mauritius in world record time with epilepsy-sufferer Ashley Wilson this time last year saw the pair become national celebrities Down Under, before then having to be rescued at sea. He is hoping to achieve similar popularity on home soil this time around.

"Although what happened with Ash could've happened to anyone, I am definitely very relieved to be doing it on my own this time," he said.

"This project is real, people can see me from the coast for themselves, I won't be out of sight and out of mind in the middle of an ocean somewhere."

Basingstoke in line with EU vote result

AFTER months of campaigning, Basingstoke and Deane finally had its say on the UK's position in the European Union last week by narrowly voting for the country to leave.

By Christian Wilson

Thursday's landmark vote saw 78 per cent of voting age residents from the borough help decide Britain's future, with Friday's results handing the win to Vote Leave by just 1.9 per cent.

The Brexit campaign received 52,071 votes to topple the 48,257 supporting the David Cameron-backed campaign to remain in the EU – a 51.9 per cent share that mirrored the national vote.

Ukip leader Nigel Farage branded the verdict as "our independence day", with the Prime Minister's announcement that he would resign from the role by October just one of the immediate ramifications.

And Ukip Hampshire chairman Alan Stone agreed with his party leader that the move would positively impact the country.

He said: "It's a beautiful result and is a vote that says 'Up yours, David Cameron'.

"Without question, this is a game-changer for the country and for our town because nothing is more important than being in charge of our own lives.

"The high turnout was phenomenal in Basingstoke, and residents have said what politicians don't want them to say – that's people power right there."

Brexit campaigners argued that leaving would result in millions of pounds being saved each week and greater control over the country's borders, while the remain camp felt staying in the EU would mean more jobs and increased security.

But with the pound dropping to its lowest value in 31 years in the hours following the result, the leader of Basingstoke's Liberal Democrats group predicted the 'huge amount of uncertainty about what happens next' would "hurt the town". "I think we have woken up as a nation much weaker than we were when we went to bed," said Cllr Gavin James. "People's jobs in Basingstoke are now less safe than they were before the vote."

Leader of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, Clive Sanders, said: "Nobody knows what's going to happen next, but any period of inevitable change is going to make our planning more difficult and could affect investment for Manydown and Basing View.

"And there is the major worry that the Government will go into a total shutdown now until the next leader comes in, which will put everything else, such as devolution deals, on hold."

While expressing his sadness at the break from the EU, Basingstoke Labour group's leader Paul Harvey called for the public to come together.

Cllr Harvey said: "I'm sad and I think there are huge implications that we need to think through carefully, but we have a strong local economy that we need to look after. This is a really important and defining moment for Basingstoke."

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller added: "The most important thing now is to find a way to ensure we leave the EU successfully for Britain because that's in all of our interests."

•It was all smiles for Vote Leave as Basingstoke opted out of the EU, with Ukip Hampshire chairman Alan Stone (green jacket) calling Friday's result "beautiful"

Date set for decision on tip closure proposal

A FINAL decision on plans to close up to 12 of Hampshire's household waste recycling centres (HWRC) is due to be made next month, it has been confirmed this week.

About 12,000 residents took part in a 10-week public consultation earlier this year to decide the future of the county's 24 HWRCs as part of cost-saving measures proposed by Hampshire County Council.

Basingstoke's tip in Wade Road is among those that could close, while the authority has ranked Hartley Wintney Recycling Centre as one of the eight centres most at risk.

Closing four sites could save the council £440,000, while £1,050,000 and £1,850,000 could be saved respectively if eight or 12 centres are fully shut down.

Plans to partially close HWRCs and reduce opening hours are also being considered, with executive member for environment and transport, Rob Humby, due to decide on any change at his decision day meeting on July 22.

"We know that the HWRCs are well thought of and well used by people in Hampshire, and I think the number of responses we received reinforces this point," said Cllr Humby.

"The feedback we have is extremely useful, and will help us to shape the changes that will need to be made to establish a financially sustainable model for the whole of Hampshire, for the future."

Crash victim dies

BASINGSTOKE: A woman has died after a car crashed into a tree in Basingstoke last week.

The incident took place on the A30 at Water End at about 3.30pm on Friday as the dark blue BMW the 30-year-old woman was travelling in made its way towards Hook.

She was in the front seat and was taken to hospital with life-threatening injuries. She died on Monday morning.

The 36-year-old driver of the vehicle suffered life-threatening injuries and is being treated at Southampton General Hospital in a critical condition.

The Serious Collision Investigating Unit has launched an investigation into the accident, with officers appealing for anyone with information to call 101, quoting 44160236029, or contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Children's centre

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: A final decision on Hampshire County Council plans to cut the number of children's centres across the borough from 11 to one is expected tomorrow.

In total, the council is looking to slash the number of centres countywide from 54 to 11 in order to save £8.5 million, with the authority looking to bring together the work from each to provide support hubs for different areas of Hampshire.

Lily Pads in Chineham, Courtyard in Lychpit, Octopus in Oakridge, Badgers in Bishops Green, Pebbles in Popley, Hometree in Tadley, Westside in South Ham, Buttercups in Brighton Hill, Bunnies in Hatch Warren and Snowdrops in Overton would all close if the cuts are approved.

Only the Honeycomb Centre in Buckskin would remain open if the changes are approved, with executive member for children's services at the council, Cllr Keith Mans, to have the final say at his decision day tomorrow.

Drink-driver is given four years in jail after fatal crash

A MOTORIST who caused the death of an Alton man by driving on the wrong side of the A339 near Basingstoke after drinking was jailed last week.

By Christian Wilson

Richard Storry, 34, of Evesham Road, Cleeve Prior, Worcestershire, was sentenced to four years in prison on Thursday after crashing into Chris Burgess last month.

Storry had previously pleaded guilty to inadvertently causing the musician's death on May 12 by driving without due care and attention whilst over the prescribed alcohol limit.

Before sentencing, Winchester Crown Court heard how he had decided to drive his parents' Volkswagen Tiguan from their home at Lasham Airfield in Alton to Basingstoke at around midnight to get a burger.

Storry, who was almost twice over the drink-drive limit, drove a quarter of a mile down the wrong side of the A339, before crashing head on into Mr Burgess's Volskwagen Golf close to the Lasham turning.

Mr Burgess, 27, of Haydock Close, who was understood to have been making his way home from a gig at the time of the collision, was pronounced dead at the scene.

Speaking after sentencing, Sergeant Darren Ord, of the Serious Collision Investigation Unit, based in Eastleigh, said: "Time and again we are faced with the devastating consequences of drink-driving.

"Despite the clear and obvious dangers of getting behind the wheel after consuming alcohol, people continue to ignore them and think it won't happen to them.

"The death of Mr Burgess could have been avoided if Storry had simply not made the reckless and irresponsible decision to drive that night."

As well as the prison sentence, Storry was handed a three-year driving ban.

Sgt Ord expressed the hope that the incident would at least help to deter other motorists from making the same decision to drink and drive.

He added: "This sentence will never be able to make up for the devastation caused to the family of Mr Burgess, but I hope it sends a strong message to those who think it is okay to drink and drive – it is not worth the risk and we will not tolerate it.

"Our roads policing teams are currently in the middle of our summer crackdown on drink and drug driving and there is no starker warning than this incident to show how a decision to get behind the wheel after drinking can destroy lives."

Jewellery stolen

KINGSCLERE: Thieves made off with high-value jewellery in a house burglary in Kingsclere last week.

The break-in took place between 10am and 4.30pm last Wednesday at a property in Keeps Mead, with entry being gained to the back garden and a door forced.

Half a bottle of alcohol was also taken following a search of the house. Police are appealing for information on 101.

Cabinet meets

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: The borough council's cabinet is next due to meet on Monday, July 18, at the civic offices in London Road from 6pm.

Food festival

BASINGSTOKE: Food fans are due to turn out in force when the annual Cheese and Chilli Festival returns to Basingstoke this weekend.

The event will feature an array of quality local and regional cheese and chilli-based foods from across the world at War Memorial Park.

The event will run from 10am to 5pm on Saturday and Sunday. Adult tickets cost £7 on the door with children free.

Charity airs delight at having adventurer's support

He added: "I've not been put off after what happened before, we were just really unlucky.

"I want people to see that even when you embark on a journey and things go wrong, you have to keep going."

As with all of his previous challenges, Captain Ketch is hoping to raise money for charity from his exploits - this time he has chosen to help Over The Wall, an organisation that provides free activity camps for children with serious illnesses.

The charity's CEO Kevin Mathieson said: "We are absolutely thrilled to have James as an Over The Wall ambassador.

"James is an inspiration and we applaud his goal of motivating young people to pursue their own goals, no matter what their health challenges."

James said: "I want to encourage young people to follow their dreams.

"It would mean a lot to me to do this and would take a lot of weight off my shoulders after the last few didn't work out.

"There will be lots of eyes on me but I thrive on that."

Fire crews' cameras marks national first

HAMPSHIRE firefighters have become the first in the country to be equipped with body-worn cameras as part of a pioneering move by the county's fire service.

By Christian Wilson

The state-of-the-art kit is being rolled out to middle-level and senior officers at Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service (HFRS) in order to review and evaluate their performance on the job at a later date.

The Reveal cameras will be worn on helmets, as well as a digital evidence management software (DEMS) system.

The move follows the successful use of body-worn video (BWV) cameras by Hampshire Constabulary, which became the first police force in the world to equip each of its officers last year in order to provide added recorded evidence on cases.

HFRS operational technology manager Alex Rhodes is hoping that the county's fire service will also benefit in the same way from the lightweight technology.

• HFRS operational technology manager Alex Rhodes

He said: "It is about seeing more and understanding more. Everyone in the service strives to be better.

"If a picture paints 1,000 words, a video shows 1,000 pictures.

"New body-worn cameras are going to help every firefighter be the best they can be and embrace the fact we are, as all fire services are, a learning organisation.

"That is what the introduction of this new technology is all about - trying to make an already excellent service even better."

In total, 70 Reveal devices have been rolled out, with the footage, as with the police force, becoming available to use as evidence in investigations, give a more complete picture of incidents later on and to help train firefighters.

Hampshire's fire service chose to use the equipment following a successful pilot last October that helped provide video evidence of a suspected arsonist, as well as being used in an investigation into a boat fire.

Assistant Chief Officer Andy Bowers said: "The introduction of helmet-mounted cameras for HFRS incident commanders is a really positive innovation for us.

"We will use them for reflective learning, training, incident analysis and fire investigation.

"There are many applications."

He added: "Having these cameras will demonstrably improve the way we collate situational awareness, carry out incident assessments and make command decisions.

"They will make the public and firefighters of Hampshire safer."

Permit plan to block Hampshire tip-users

WEST Berkshire Council will discuss introducing a waste permit scheme to prevent Basingstoke and Deane residents from using its recycling centres tonight.

The move comes as a response to Hampshire County Council's decision to stop paying an annual sum to the authority to use the tips in Newbury and Padworth.

A voluntary contribution of £192,553 was provided to West Berkshire last year, but was stopped in April as part of plans to make £98 million worth of savings by 2017.

Residents from the north of Hampshire, including Tadley, currently account for 40 per cent of the waste taken to the Padworth recycling centre and 20 per cent at the Newtown Road site in Newbury.

West Berkshire Council is proposing to issue free vehicle permits to its residents in order to ensure that only they can make use of the centres following the cutting of funding.

The move comes at a time when Hampshire County Council is exploring the idea of closing up to 12 household waste recycling centres (HWRC), including the one in Hartley Wintney, in order to save £1,850,000.

West Berkshire executive member for communities and protection, Cllr Marcus Franks, said: "We used to receive payment towards the cost of [the waste's] disposal but now this has stopped we have to think about our local residents.

"It would be unfair for them to begin subsidising waste disposal from other districts."

New treatment now available for prostate cancer

• Members of the hospital urology department

BASINGSTOKE hospital has become only the third hospital in the country to offer two forms of non-invasive treatment for prostate cancer.

The hospital's urology department recently acquired the equipment needed to carry out both high intensity focused ultrasound (HIFU) and cryoablation treatments.

HIFU destroys cancer cells by heating the tissues, while cryoablation, which freezes cancer, can be used to treat areas of the gland inaccessible to the other technique.

Both treatments reduce the damage done to healthy parts of the gland, lessening the risk of side effects such as impotence and incontinence for patients whose cancer is in the early stages.

The HIFU machine cost £194,000 and was bought for the hospital by the North Hampshire Medical Fund, a charity that raises funds for advanced medical equipment.

Teen to lose locks for cancer charity

A BASINGSTOKE teenager will transform the way she looks next week to help change the lives of other youngsters in the area.

By Christian Wilson

By her own admission, Evelyn Blackwell's long hair has helped build her confidence from a young age and played a major part in shaping who she is.

But the 17-year-old is set to sacrifice all of that on Monday for something equally as important when she gets her waist-length locks shaved for charity.

The hair removed will be donated to Little Princess in order to make wigs for children who have lost their hair due to aggressive cancer treatments, such as chemotherapy.

Evelyn, who is currently taking her A-Level exams at Peter Symonds College in Winchester, hopes that her hair will help provide the comfort to others that it provided to her.

She said: "My hair played a big part in building my confidence as a teenager. It made me feel feminine.

"But I don't feel I need it any more, which is why I'm going to shave it all off.

"I want to use it to build up and improve the lives of others."

She is hoping to raise about £1,000 for Teenage Cancer Trust, which provides care and support for young people aged between 13 and 24 in the south of the UK and beyond.

Charity fundraising co-ordinator Louise Beasley said: "We are delighted that Evelyn is supporting us and we'd like to say a huge thank you to her and to everyone who has helped out or made a donation.

"We are encouraging everyone to come along on the day and raise money for desperately needed services for local young people with cancer."

Evelyn will get her special haircut at about 3pm outside London Street United Reformed Church, and is calling on other people from Basingstoke to help her breach the £1,000 mark.

She added: "I was feeling apprehensive about shaving my hair off as it has become such a large part of my identity.

"However, the support I have received has been incredible and I know that the money raised from my head shave will hugely benefit those who rely on the support of Teenage Cancer Trust.

"Cancer is something that no teen should have to face, especially not alone, and the charity provides specialist care and support, so all money raised will go towards supporting this."

Public's opinion sought in new highways survey

RESIDENTS from across the county have been asked for their views on Hampshire County Council's highways and transport services.

A questionnaire was sent to a random sample of 3,300 people on Monday to ask the public's opinion on issues such as the condition of roads and footpaths to the efficiency of street lights.

The council is one of 106 local authorities to sign up to the National Highways and Transport Public Satisfaction survey, which will see answers compared with residents from across the country.

Executive member for environment and transport, Cllr Rob Humby, said: "Good highways and transport infrastructure is a key priority for us.

"We know how important it is for Hampshire's economic prosperity and for the people who live and work here to have a safe and reliable transport network."

Those chosen can opt to take the questionnaire online, with local and national results will be published in mid-October.

Cllr Humby added: "This survey provides us with a sound benchmark as to how we're doing, and we appreciate the time taken by Hampshire residents to complete it, and let us know what they think."

Broadband boost

BASINGSTOKE: MP Maria Miller has welcomed the Government's recent change to Building Regulations, meaning all new homes have to be built to support superfast broadband.

The Government has been working with BT Openreach and the Home Builders Federation to reach an agreement, which aims to deliver superfast broadband connectivity to all new-build properties in the UK.

Mrs Miller said: "Fast Internet connections are increasingly seen as an essential utility, like electricity and water, and becoming a necessity, for home working, studying and staying connected."

Deputy hits back over outlet centre criticism

RESIDENTS have weighed into the debate on how plans to completely transform Basingstoke Leisure Park could affect the town centre.

By Christian Wilson

With 2,400 jobs promised and a new aquadrome, velodrome and dual-use ice rink arena among the new attractions included, the proposals were initially met with high positivity from most.

But the inclusion of a 300,000 sq ft designer shopping outlet as part of the £200 million Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council- led project has proven to be a stumbling block for some however.

• Borough council deputy leader Terri Reid believes the inclusion of a designer shopping outlet will improve business in Basingstoke

BDBC's Labour group has claimed that the out-of-town retail park could lead to £32.35m in trade being taken away from Festival Place and the Top of Town – a prediction that has led to some Basingstoke residents to attack the plans online.

Davinity Powis wrote: "Great to have new facilities, aquadrome, skating etc.

"But this guarantees another nail in the coffin of Basingstoke town shops – Festival Place, Malls and Top of Town will suffer."

Victoria Kennedy agreed with that comment, adding: "BDBC should be ashamed of themselves for continuing to the demise of the town centre!

"New and improved leisure facilities are welcomed but a retail outlet will be a huge blow to the already crumbling town shopping district."

A planning application is expected to be drawn up by the end of the year for the modernisation project, which will also see a surfing centre, a climbing wall, a skate park and "survival style" challenges arrive at the ageing park.

And while acknowledging that public opinion on the revamp has changed over the last few months, the council's deputy leader Terri Reid was adamant that the shopping outlet would improve business in the town, not make it suffer.

She said: "When we first broke the news, public opinion was so positive, but Labour's negative campaign has stopped that.

"I can't imagine why they would want to stop all these extra jobs coming to the area, and it's a shame that they don't share our aspirations for Basingstoke."

Cllr Reid added: "Obviously we wouldn't want to harm the town centre – why would we?

"We're talking about premium retail, you're not going to go there to do your school uniform shop or buy holiday clothes, and so it won't impact Festival Place. "This will be an addition to Basingstoke and will bring in people that wouldn't come otherwise."

Acid attack brothers given jail terms

TWO men with links to Basingstoke have been sentenced to a total of 24 years in jail for throwing sulphuric acid in a women's face.

Billy Midmore, 22, and brother Geoffrey Midmore, 27, both of no fixed abode, attacked Carla Whitlock in Southampton on September 18 last year, leaving her severely disfigured and blind in one eye.

Police launched a nationwide search for the brothers, with the pair spotted on CCTV high-fiving and fist-bumping on a train to Basingstoke just an hour after the attack.

It has since emerged that both men worked jointly to target and carry out the attack on the mum-of-six.

Billy Midmore was sentenced to 15 years at Southampton Crown Court last Tuesday after previously pleading not guilty.

Geoffrey Midmore admitted to causing grievous bodily harm with intent and was handed a nine-year sentence.

Chief Inspector Debra Masson said: "The level of injury caused by such an attack is life-changing, and I know that Carla still faces many challenges, alongside the permanent loss of sight in one of her eyes, due to this barbaric act."

Reporter suffers racial abuse during interview

A BBC journalist from Basingstoke was racially abused after returning to her hometown to complete a news feature on the European Union (EU) this week, it has been reported.

Sima Kotecha visited the town on Monday while working for BBC Radio 4 to ask voters why they had opted to leave the EU in Thursday's referendum poll.

• BBC reporter Sima Kotecha appeared to be called a pi during an interview on the EU decision this week

By Christian Wilson

A total of 51.9 per cent of residents from the borough voted for a 'Brexit' in a mirror of the national results, with one unnamed man appearing to use the word pi when asked by Ms Kotecha in a Basingstoke pub why he had voted leave.

"I think all the immigrants, they should leave the country, you know what I mean? Yeah, like I'm not saying pis as, like, I'm saying like all of them," he was heard telling Ms Kotecha in the report, which was broadcast on Tuesday.

Ms Kotecha took to Twitter to express her "utter shock" at being abused, writing: "Just been called pi in my home town! Haven't heard that word here since the 80s!"

The post has since been retweeted more than 3,000 times, with hundreds of users taking to Twitter to offer their support and to condemn the outburst.

Ms Kotecha, who works as a reporter for the Today programme, responded by saying: "Wow really touched by the outpouring of support – THANK YOU. Your messages make me SO proud to be British."

The incident occurred just two days after charity Basingstoke Multicultural Forum held its World Party at Eastrop Park.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council leader Clive Sanders labelled the slur as "isolated" for the area.

He said: "This behaviour has never been tolerated in Basingstoke, it cannot be justified and I wholeheartedly condemn it."

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller said: "Along with the vast majority of Basingstoke residents, I was appalled to hear of the racist abuse suffered by BBC presenter Sima Kotecha.

"This dreadful event underlines the need for us all to redouble our effort in showing zero tolerance towards racism in all its forms."

Hampshire Constabulary said on Tuesday that an investigation had been opened, saying that it took "allegations of this nature extremely seriously."

£2.1m loan allows work to start

• An artist's illustration of the new-look Chapel Hill

BUILDING can now begin on a major housing development in Basingstoke thanks to a £2.1 million loan.

A total of 578 homes are to be built in Chapel Hill on the former site of pharmaceutical firm Eli Lilly in Kingsclere Road.

The development was granted planning approval by Basingstoke's council two years ago, before the authority passed a reserved matters application for the project last month to officially give it the green light.

The Chapel Hill scheme will now be able to go forward a year ahead of schedule because of the loan from the Enterprise M3 Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP), which helps fund infrastructure in the area.

Enterprise M3 chairman Geoff French said: "The Chapel Hill development fits very well with current Enterprise M3 and Government priorities."

Sentinel Housing's plans for Chapel Hill include 247 houses and 275 apartments, with the company thanking the LEP.

Development director Mike Shepherd said: "The redevelopment of Chapel Hill's been long awaited by the local community."

MONEY MATTERS

Buying your own home – the best financial decision you could ever make

Owning your own home is one of life's big achievements. Deciding the right time to take the leap onto the property ladder is difficult, especially if you are already renting, but there are many reasons to make the switch.

Firstly, and quite possibly the most important, buying a house means security. If you are renting, the owner could decide to sell the property, so putting down roots and taking ownership of a property is important, especially if you want to start a family.

Not only would you have a place that is yours to live in as you please, but you are also investing in your future. Paying rent to a landlord each month is money you will never see again, whereas a mortgage will build equity, and at the end of your mortgage term you will be able to live rent and mortgage free, or you could use the equity to help buy a bigger home or fund a comfortable retirement.

Now the best bit. Taking out a mortgage means you live by your own rules. You won't have to face that dreaded visit from the landlord to make sure everything is in good condition. You can paint the walls any colour you like, decorate any way you choose, you can have as many pets as your heart desires, without having to ask a landlord for permission. You can spend money improving your home, which in turn could increase the property's value.

At Newbury Building Society, we have been helping people buy homes for 160 years and we are committed to helping first time buyers take their first step onto the property ladder. The Society is one of the few lenders who offer products up to 95% even on Shared Ownership. This means that you only have to provide a small deposit from 5% of the property loan to value.

If you can't quite afford the mortgage on 100% of a home, Shared Ownership offers you the chance to buy a share of your home (between 25% and 75% of the home's value) and pay rent on the remaining share. You will need to take out a mortgage to pay for your share but you could buy bigger shares when you can afford to. Importantly, the home is yours despite paying rent on the remaining share. For those accustomed to paying rent, the difference in monthly costs are surprisingly little.

We provide a wide range of mortgages, from Shared Ownership and Shared Equity schemes, such as the Government's Help to Buy initiative. Help to Buy is a government backed scheme which is available to help people move into their first home. Buying your first home can be a long and complex process but the Society can help. If you are buying a home and could benefit from a helping hand with your deposit, the Help to Buy scheme might be right for you.

If you're thinking of moving home, come and have a chat with us. Our mortgage advisers are available from Mondays to Saturdays and we offer a free, no obligation meeting to discuss your needs. Alternatively we can arrange a telephone appointment to suit you.

We will simplify the whole process from your initial enquiry until you move into your new home by providing you with specialist face to face advice in a way you can understand. We underwrite all of our cases individually and may consider all situations and all employment types.

Hopefully, getting yourself on the property ladder isn't as difficult as you first thought. Agreeing on the colour of the kitchen might be...

Disabled worker voices discrimination concern

A DISABLED Basingstoke university graduate has expressed her fear she is constantly being overlooked for work because of her condition.

By Christian Wilson

Marti Hayes said she had applied for about 50 jobs but had received just three interviews as a result – something she attributes to her disability.

The 24-year-old suffered respiratory failure in 2010, before then being told by doctors that she had a rare lung condition, meaning she could not walk short distances without having to stop and catch her breath.

And while Marti, who graduated from the University of Southampton in 2014, now has a job working at Primark, she feels that she faces an uphill battle to convince employers to hire her because of preconceptions against disabled people.

• Marti Hayes fears she is being overlooked

She said: "Some employers don't see all the positive things we can offer.

"I've filled out loads of job applications but I worry managers are put off when they see I've ticked the box declaring I have a disability.

"It's frustrating because people don't meet you before they see the CV."

It is against the law for employers to discriminate against someone applying for a position that has a disability; although Marti says her trepidations are founded on her past experiences.

She said: "Many people have said I can't follow my dreams and I'm not able to do the things I want to do.

"I've experienced bullying, unkindness and judgement and I know I'm not alone."

Marti founded children's special needs organisation Haziedays two years ago to help provide support for young people and their families.

And she has now teamed up with national charity Fixers to produce a leaflet featuring tips for disabled young people looking for work, with T34 Paralympic double gold medalist Hannah Cockcroft among those to contribute.

Marti said: "Having a long-term health condition has made me hard working, more driven and compassionate.

"Disabled people often say they are disregarded, resulting in low self-esteem and low confidence.

"I always think if they don't want me because I've got a disability, they're not someone I want to work for."

To view Marti's leaflet, visit www.issuu.com/fixersapprovals/docs/0950_we_are_what_we_are_final/1.

Kids have summer fun at splash pad

BASINGSTOKE youngsters can now start their summer in style by enjoying water-filled fun at Chineham Park.

Toddlers and juniors are now able to enjoy the new wet play area Chineham Splash Pad for the first time after the borough council gave the park's old paddling pool a revamp.

The splash pad was opened last Tuesday and has 26 groundwater jet sprays to keep everybody cool.

It will be open every day of the week from 10am to 7pm until September.

Youngsters were on hand to try out the new facility, along with members of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, who have funded it, and local community groups, who came up with the idea.

• Borough councillors in front of the splash pad

The council's cabinet member for communities and community safety, Cllr Simon Bound, said: "I am delighted to see the fantastic new splash pad in action at Chineham Park, the first of its kind in the borough.

"This new play facility, which is also a great example of how community planning can really deliver what residents want and need in their area, will provide a safe fun activity for borough children to enjoy in summer months."

Children aged three to 12 can make use of the new facility free of charge, although residents have been advised that there are no changing or toilet facilities at the park.

The awards, which are run by the Royal Academy of Engineering with support from the Worshipful Company of Engineers, is known for spotting the "next big thing" in the industry.

Scam warning

HAMPSHIRE: Police have issued advice to Hampshire residents after a number of people were targeted in a tax scam.

On each occasion, the victim received a telephone call from a person claiming to be from HMRC (Revenue and Customs) and was told to hand over money to settle a fake unpaid tax bill.

Hampshire Constabulary have reminded residents to never give out any personal information relating to their bank over the phone, never hand over cash at the door, and to cancel any cards if they suspect they have been compromised.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Indian dance set to enthrall

A NIGHT of Indian dance moves will captivate at The Haymarket on Saturday, July 2, when Kala The Arts visits Basingstoke.

By James Richings

Performed by the dancers from the Kala The Dance Company, 'Sangha – Indian Dance Theatre' will see the audience enthralled by traditional Indian music, instruments and dances.

And for artistic director and choreographer Sushmita Pati, who founded the company back in 1999, she hopes the powerful Asian show will bring communities together.

"The work is aimed at an audience who enjoys and appreciates different types of culture, dances and world music," she told the Observer.

"And overall, it's just fun.

"I feel happy when I have achieved something in dance/choreography because it can lead to many great things. For one, I have made new friends, it's a good discipline to have, for adults it keeps them fit, reduces stress and creates a positive and happy environment."

Kala The Arts has become one of Basingstoke's popular entertainment and art companies, with the organisation offering a number of different music, singing and dance classes at the Vyne School.

Suitable for both adults and children, people can learn about the Indian culture through the medium of entertainment, with Sushmita's company offering to teach them Bollywood and Odissi dance moves, how to play the Tabla (Indian drum) and how to sing along to Hindustani music.

And with many people of different races taking part in the production at the Wote Street venue, Sushmita believes the crowd will not be left disappointed at the end of the night.

"Expect to see some high-quality South Asian dance forms presented by professional dance artists along with a number of performances created by local students we teach," she said.

"This will include dances from Everest College students, and the backstage helpers are Basingstoke College of Technology students who are currently studying hair and beauty.

"And we have performed a number of times here so, we are very happy to be returning to The Haymarket."

Tickets for the 7pm show cost £12 or £11 for under-16s and full-time students.

Orchestra marks 45 years

TO celebrate the 45th anniversary of Hampshire County Youth Orchestra, the young musicians will be demonstrating their talent at The Anvil on Sunday, July 3.

By James Richings

Performing well-known pieces by the likes of Arvo Pärt, Gustav Holst and Dmitri Shostakovich, along with famous family-friendly tunes, the event should be one for the whole family to enjoy.

And for 11-year-old Ellie Holmes, who has been with the orchestra for a year, just being part of a group that has a mutual love for music is something she describes as 'rewarding.'

"I first went to hear the orchestra play in Winchester Cathedral quite a long time ago and I decided that I wanted to join one day," she told the Observer.

"I also went to an open day when they played Star Wars and got to join in, so when I auditioned last year I was so pleased to get in.

"It feels like it's worth the practice and it's very rewarding when it all comes together."

Part of this year's Basingstoke Festival, the event this Sunday will see the 100-plus aspiring classical musicians under the wing of director Carl Clausen.

And if you think the youngsters will be a bit nervous, you had better think again. The musicians have performed all over the south of the UK, with their skills improving with every concert they do.

And with Ellie describing the event as 'varied', the Churchill Way concert is expected to be a popular one, with the musician revealing that as well as classical music, a few numbers from the movie world will be included.

"At Easter, we go away for a whole week and make lots of music together in small groups, and the whole orchestra comes together," she said.

"And it's very important for children to watch live music.

"It teaches them to listen to music so that they can sit through longer performances when they are older and be inspired to learn how to play an instrument.

"It is also important that they see the orchestra having fun."

And despite not even yet being a teenager yet, the youngster offered some advice to both the young and old, who are thinking about a career in music.

"Don't give up if it is something you really want to do," she said.

"If you work hard at it, anyone can learn an instrument."

"Also, smile, enjoy it and make the most of your opportunities."

Tickets for the concert cost £12 or £8 for concessions, under-16s and full-time students.

Monks to perform

THE Tibetan Monks of The Tashi Lhunpo Monastery and Ngawang Lodup will be bringing song and dance to The Haymarket on Friday, July 1.

Eight monks from the Tashi Lhunpo Monastery in Tibet will be performing spiritual prayers through song and dance at the Wote Street theatre, using traditional Asian instruments such as the long horn and the dramnyen (a six-string lute).

The entertainers, who are on a nationwide tour, will also be joined by Ngawang Lodup, a Buddhist monk turned musician.

And despite only moving to England from Nepal with very little English 12 years ago, the musician revealed he had to make things work in the UK to stand any chance of becoming a musician.

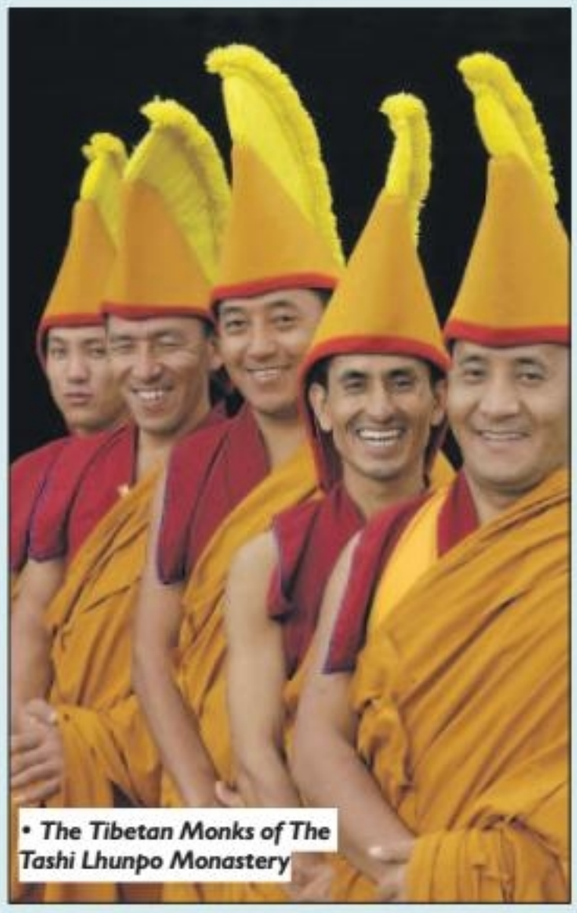

"It was an absolute challenge," he said.

"I didn't know anything about the system here and had no friends.

"But Buddhism helps me calm down, to cope with daily activities. What I like about this country is you have freedom about which religion you believe in."

The performance is part of this year's Basingstoke Festival and tickets cost £18 or £16 for under-16s or for full-time students.

It will start at 7.30pm.

About 20 albums and thousands of gigs later, they've earned a reputation around the world as one of the finest exponents of the blues tradition in all its forms. With this line-up, it's hardly surprising.

MARK THOMAS – WORK IN PROGRESS
Red Shed is the third part in a trilogy that started with the multi award winning shows Bravo Figaro and Cuckooed.
Mark returns to the place where he first started to perform in public, a red wooden shed in Wakefield, the labour club, to celebrate the clubs 50th birthday. Interviewing old friends and comrades Mark pieces together the clubs history and works with the club to campaign with some of the poorest workers in the country for their rights.
It is the story of the battle for hope and the survival of a community in a small wooden shed.
It is part theatre, part stand up, part journalism, part activism and returns to Mark's obsessions of community and struggle. The show will involve the audience (in a nice way) to help recreate the shed and its inhabitants.

Peugeot Tepee is put to the test

IF you look at the Peugeot Tepee for more than a few seconds, you will automatically think 'is that a van?'

I would have to agree that it does look kind of van-ish, but I can assure you that the Peugeot Tepee is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

The design brief for the Tepee would I imagine have been simple for Peugeot; 'family or leisure use with the ability to carry a large amount of gear and the kitchen sink with a capacity of up to seven seats with as many storage holes as humanly possible'.

I have never seen so many secret compartments in a car – it's like sitting inside James Bond's duffle bag.

POWER AND EFFICIENCY:

The Tepee I have on test is powered by a 100hp 1.6 litre diesel engine that performs well and is one of Peugeot's best engines and will happily return 68mpg (combined). Top speed is of no concern here, because the Tepee was designed to be a family and adventure friendly.

By Anthony Yates

Torque figures are more relevant because of the nature of what the Tepee will be doing and carrying. That 1.6 HDi diesel engine produces 254Nm which is great for all those green fields you will be hitting while out on your adventures.

ON THE ROAD:

The Tepee provides a decent ride and is actually very comfortable and well thought out. The suspension also felt good with no sign of a harsh ride, even when fully loaded. I enjoyed driving the family around in it all week because it fitted in nicely with all we have to do as a busy family unit.

DESIGN:

This is the Tepee's party piece. There is overhead storage above the passenger and drivers' heads, front door storage pockets which can hold bottles of up to 1.5 litres, drawers under the front seats, space in the floor for rear passengers, plus many litres of storage in the centre console and 675 litres of boot space which can then be increased by up to 2,650 litres using the modularity of the folding rear bench seat (row 2 seats fully folded). Go for the Active Blue HDi 100 S&S version and you can even opt for seven seats.

TECHNOLOGY:

Driver and front passenger airbags, cruise control with speed limiter, touchscreen with digital radio, automatic lights on, rain sensing wipers and LED daytime running lights are just a small amount of kit you get.

TO SUM UP:

The Peugeot Partner Tepee is a fantastic little machine to find your next adventure.

Price (from) £19,030 MRRP (as tested).

Bison coach delighted to see defenceman sign on

ANOTHER member of last season's English Premier League (EPL) title-winning roster has re-signed with the Basingstoke Bison.

By Christian Wilson

Highly-experienced defenceman Joe Baird will return to Planet Ice to suit up for his ninth season in total with the Stampede in the autumn, having made his senior debut at the club as a 14-year-old back in 1994.

Now 36, the popular British blue liner played a vital part in keeping the Herd squad on track for their first league title since a year before his debut with the then-named Basingstoke Beavers.

In total, Baird returned 13 points from his 54 games on the ice, with his hard-hitting approach to his duties, aimed at breaking up the momentum of the opposition, earning him 64 minutes in penalties throughout the campaign.

He may not have found the net last term, but with him on the verge of becoming only the fifth Herd player to ever reach the 300 league matches milestone for the club, head coach Doug Sheppard admitted to being delighted to retain his leadership qualities.

"He is a player that everyone listens to in the dressing room, hence why he is the only defenceman to wear a letter," said Sheppard. "He is a leader back there and someone you can rely on.

"It is great to have him back as part of a great defensive core which served us so well last season."

The re-signing of Baird means that Bison have retained 10 of last season's championship winning roster, as well as adding forwards Ivan Antonov and Dan Davies and import centreman Petr Polodna this summer.

Last season's EPL title represented the Southampton-born veteran's second of his career, having won the league in 2006/07 with the Bracknell Bees.

And after also representing the likes of the Isle of Wight Raiders and Swindon Wildcats on his way to over 600 league appearances, Baird was adamant that he was in just the right place for his career.

He said: "I am really looking forward to the new season and I think the team Doug Sheppard is putting together looks very capable of winning silverware again.

"We have a solid defence and the new forward signings have made us stronger."

Batting sees Basingstoke fail

BASINGSTOKE and North Hants showed an all too familiar weakness as another poor batting display saw them lose to Bournemouth.

Both sides only lost one over to the rain in the Southern Premier League Division 1 clash on the south coast as other games were being called off.

But that piece of luck was as good as it got for the Bountymen as they failed to make the most of some good work from their bowlers to limp to a 16-run defeat at Chapel Gate.

The previous week had seen Basingstoke snatch a win over Liphook and Ripsley after a half-century from Ben Julin. That result owed a lot to the bowlers however, and Basingstoke were once again impressive with the ball in hand on Saturday.

A knock of 43 from Bournemouth opener Ben Bridgen put the visitors on the back foot early on, before Ryan Connor (20-2) eventually put pay to his innings.

And the Bountymen bowlers shared the rest of the wickets, with Martyn James (2-27), Bradley Neal (2-23) and Daniel Belcher (2-22) all impressing.

Only a knock of 30 not out from mid-order batsman Martin Miller helped the hosts make it far into triple figures as they finished their 50 overs on 133-9 to leave Basingstoke in control.

But with Belcher (26) losing his wicket before he could get settled to push past the 50-run mark, and Chris Froud (9) and captain Mitch Stokes (13) struggling, they soon lost their momentum after that.

Max Harsham hung around until the end after arriving in fourth, but his 24 not out did not help the team much as they lost their next five wickets for just 13 runs to leave them on 85-8.

Despite spirited knocks of 10 from both tail-enders Graham Porter and Connor, Basingstoke could only manage a disappointing tally of 116 runs to lose.

The Bountymen are next in action this Saturday, hosting local rivals Hook and Newnham Basics at May's Bounty.

Brown signs a 'little jewel'

BASINGSTOKE Town have signed another new face as they look to bring a new squad of players to the club.

Young forward Sam Deadfield this week became Dragons boss Terry Brown's eighth summer signing as he looks to rebuild at the Ark Cancer Charity Stadium.

The 19-year-old, who can also play at left back, and in midfield, arrives on the back of a spell with Beaconsfield in the Southern Premier last year, having come up through the youth system at Birmingham City and Reading.

With the club transforming personnel following the decision to go full-time and bring through young players, Brown feels that he has found a hidden gem in Deadfield.

He said: "He's probably one of the brightest little jewels that Reading have let go in the past three or four years. Because of his physical presence, he didn't make it, but he's filled out a bit and grown up a lot and has developed into a player who can play a number of positions well."

Only club captain David Ray remains to play for the 'Stoke next season after the drop from National League South, with Brown targeting 10 more signings.

He added: "I'm definitely eyeing up more senior players – I want two more in a perfect world, including a strong leader in midfield."

Sport Bites

Top performers

ATHLETICS: Basingstoke and Mid Hants Athletic Club put in a superb performance to win match three of the Wessex Young Athletes League at Swindon on Saturday.

The club's points tally of 578 saw them just come out on top of Team Kennet, with the girls taking the limelight.

Isabel Pinder starred for the under-13s as she won the 100m, 200m, 4x100m relay and high jump events, with Ayomide Cole repeating the feat in the three track events for the B string.

Iona Irvine won the 70m hurdles, high jump and was also part of the 4x100m winning team, Erin Hammill won the under-15 girls' 100m, 200m and 4x100m relay, and Lydia Sommers won the under-17 long jump, 200m and 300m.

Kai Ruffle was the star for Basingstoke in the boys' events as he won the under-15s' 100m, 200m and long jump events.

Rained off

CRICKET: Both Hook and Newnham Basics and Hartley were left frustrated as their matches were called off because of bad weather on Saturday.

Hook's trip to Totton and Eling saw no play at all in Southern League Division 1 as the rain clouds descended.

And Hartley were also left cursing their luck after their Division 2 tie with Tichborne Park was stopped just 5.4 overs into the match.

Hook are next in action against Basingstoke and North Hants on Saturday, while Hartley will travel to Sparsholt.

Much to cheer

CHEERLEADING: The Basingstoke Wolverines Allstar Cheerleading Squad attended their third tournament of the season at Jamfest Europe in Liverpool on Saturday.

The highlight saw the Storm squad, made up of girls aged 12 and above, finish second in the Level 1 Senior Cheer Small division.

DANSON DAZZLES TO CLAIM TREBLE

ODIHAM hockey star Alex Danson claimed a sensational hat-trick as Great Britain edged a seven-goal thriller at the women's Hockey Champions Trophy.

By Christian Wilson

The forward was superb throughout as GB emerged with a 4-3 win over New Zealand to end a disappointing tournament on a high to avoid finishing bottom of the table.

Sunday's victory was a bittersweet one for Great Britain after defeats to both the USA and Australia had left them on the verge of collecting the wooden spoon at their home tournament after failing to win a single match.

Danson and Co looked well off the pace heading into the game as they were swept aside by USA 2-0 on Thursday, before finding themselves on the wrong end of a 4-1 hammering by the Australia team on Saturday.

But Danny Kerry's team looked much more like themselves just 24 hours later as they lined up against the Blacksticks at the Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre in London.

It was little surprise then when Danson, who was this week selected to represent GB at the Olympics, broke the deadlock on 10 minutes as she slammed a backhand strike into the goal after being found in space.

New Zealand hit back early in the second quarter though when the ball fell to Anita McLaren to lash home confidently.

But GB regained their lead just four minutes later with Danson involved again crossing for Lily Owsley to finish at the second attempt to make it 2-1.

And the home crowd was left purring three minutes into the third quarter as Danson finished off a sumptuous move including a double dummy from a penalty corner to claim her second of the match.

But GB showed the soft underbelly that had blighted their tournament after that as goals from Olivia Merry and then Kelsey Smith levelled the tie at 3-3.

But, undeterred, the hosts pushed forward again, with Danson again keeping her cool when played through to loft a sublime finish over the New Zealand goalkeeper and complete her hat-trick.

Speaking after the match, Danson said: "It was a fantastic game.

"Thank you to everyone who has come out and supported us this week. I don't think anyone has lost faith in us and we haven't lost faith in ourselves.

"To have a fantastic atmosphere like that on our home turf in the Olympic Park is pretty special. After a hard week, we are delighted to come away with that last win."
